BPOM Will Immediately Issue a Permit For Emergency Use Of The Corona Astrazeneca Vaccine

The Food and Drug Administration (BPOM) will immediately issue an Emergency Use Authorization (EUA) for the corona vaccine from AstraZeneca. This is following the World Health Organization (WHO) which has issued an emergency use permit for two versions of the corona virus vaccine made by AstraZeneca. Head of BPOM Penny K. Lukito also said that his party had received information that the vaccine was included in the emergency use listing (EUL) list. Penny explained, currently BPON is waiting for various data related to the efficacy, quality and quality of the AstraZeneca vaccine from WHO. "We are waiting for that in the near future, of course. So we promise that the performance will be around 5-10 days, the EUA will be able to publish it as soon as we receive dossier data from WHO," Penny explained in a press conference, Tuesday (16/2).

Malaysia Successfully Secured Vaccine Supply for All of Its Population

Malaysia has secured supplies of the Covid-19 vaccine for its entire population ahead of the launch of a national vaccination program which will be launched in late February 2021. Reported by Bloomberg, Tuesday (16/2/2021), Malaysian Prime Minister Muhyiddin Yassin said the neighboring country would receive 66.7 million doses of vaccine through the Covax scheme and 5 other Covid-19 vaccine manufacturers. Before launching the mass vaccination program, he said that the vaccine must have obtained a permit from the National Pharmaceutical Regulatory Agency. "The government's strategy is to make sure all Malaysians get the vaccine, to save lives in the shortest possible time," he said.
