Central Bureau Statistics of Indonesia (BPS) announced July 2022 inflation +0.64% mom (vs consensus inflation +0.53%, +0.61% in June 2022). On yearly basis, inflation was +4.94% yoy (vs consensus inflation +4.82%, +4.35% in June 2022). Core inflation was printed at +2.86% yoy (vs consensus inflation +2.86%, +2.63% in June 2022). The higher of yearly inflation was impacted by the energy inflation, which was impacted by the global crisis, as well as food inflation which was impacted by the seasonal condition. The BI Board of Governors agreed on 20-21 July 2022 to hold the BI 7-Day Reverse Repo Rate at 3.50%, and hold the Deposit Facility (DF) and Lending Facility (LF) rates at 2.75% and 4.25%, respectively. This policy is in line to support the Indonesia's economic growth amid global economic slowdown. Rupiah appreciated against USD by +0.55% from 14,956 at end of June 2022 to 14,874 at end of July 2022. Indonesia's trade balance recorded surplus amounting to USD +5,089mn in June 2022 vs previous month surplus USD +2,895mn in May 2022. Higher trade surplus was supported by the increment of CPO oil export after the export ban was lifted. Non-oil and gas trade balance in June 2022 recorded surplus USD +7,229mn, which was lower than the previous month that recorded trade surplus amounting to USD +4,753mn in June 2022. Meanwhile, oil and gas trade balance still recorded deficit to USD -2,140mn in June 2022, which was higher than the deficit in May 2022 amounting to USD -1,858mn. Indonesia's official foreign reserve in the end of July 2022 was at USD 132.2bn, slightly lower than June 2022 number at USD 136.4bn due to government debt payment and to stabilize the Rupiah exchange rate in line with the global financial market uncertainty.

IDR Government bond yields were closed mixed all across the curve. Bond market was opened in bearish tone in the beginning of the month which was impacted by the concern over higher inflation around the world, especially higher inflation in US reached at 9.10%. However, there was risk-on sentiment in the market after the US FOMC meeting on 26-27 July 2022, which indicate that the Fed would be more likely to slow rate hikes. Market cheered up this view which was also shown by lower US Treasury yield 10yr and the weakening Dollar Index. On 27 July 2022, Japan Credit Rating Agency has affirmed Indonesia's Sovereign Credit Rating at 'BBB+' (investment grade) with a Stable Outlook. According to JCR, key factors that support the affirmation are Indonesia's strong growth outlook prospect and manageable government debt. Offshore accounts decreased their holding by IDR -28.98tn in July 2022 (-3.71% MoM), from IDR 780.22tn as of 30 June 2022 to IDR 751.24tn as of 29 July 2022, which brought their holding to 15.36% of total outstanding tradable government bond (from 16.09% in the previous month).
