The increment of inflation is only contributed by the inflation on food, beverage and tobacco group, while there was still weak demand on other group which was impacted by lower of purchasing power, affected to the lower core inflation. The BI Board of Governors agreed on 16-17 December 2020 to hold the BI 7-Day Reverse Repo Rate at 3.75%, and also hold the Deposit Facility (DF) and Lending Facility (LF) rates at 3.00% and 4.50%, respectively. This policy was in line with the inflation expectation remain low, maintain external stability, and to accelerate the economic recovery. Rupiah appreciated by +0.16% from 14,128 at end of November 2020 to 14,105 at end of December 2020. Indonesia's trade balance recorded surplus amounting to USD +2,612mn in Nov 2020 vs previous month surplus USD +3,607mn. The increment of CPO prices is still be the main contributor to the higher export number. The other reason is the increment of export volume of iron & steel to China. Non-oil and gas trade balance in Nov 2020 recorded surplus USD +2,935mn, which was lower than the previous month that recorded trade surplus amounting to USD +4,057mn. Meanwhile, oil and gas trade balance still recorded deficit to USD -323mn in Nov 2020, which was lower than the deficit on Oct 2020 amounting to USD -450mn.

IDR Government bond yields were mostly posted lower, except the 5yr tenor. Bond market opened with sideways trend on the back of the rising of new cases of Covid-19 in Indonesia. Then, market players were reacted positively to the reshuffle announcement on President Jokowi's cabinet. While the support from global side came from the news of additional stimulus budget that was approved by President Trump amounting USD 900bn. Ahead of Christmas & New Year holiday and after MOF announced the amount bond issuance for Q1 2021, there was selling action by local players and offshore names for reducing inventories and profit taking purposes, especially on short tenor. Japan Credit Rating affirms Indonesia's credit rating on BBB+ which reflected the confidence level of international stakeholders for Indonesia's economic resilience amid the Covid-19 pandemic.
