Manager Commentary

The Asian market had an overall return of -5.27% for the month of February. The top performer for the month was China (+0.97%). The bottom performers for the region were Thailand (-12.21%) and Australia (-10.98%). Performance was down largely due to fears surrounding the coronavirus outbreak, as restrictions and quarantine measures limit the movement of people and goods. China was the only region to record a gain for the month lead by the healthcare and materials sectors. Thailand was a bottom performer due to a lagging performance in the utilities and industrials sectors. Australia was a bottom performer due to a lagging performance in the information technology and energy sectors.

Central Bureau Statistics of Indonesia (BPS) announced February 2020 inflation at +0.28% mom (vs consensus inflation +0.16%, +0.39% in January 2020). On yearly basis, inflation was +2.98% yoy (vs consensus inflation +2.90%, +2.68% in January 2020). Core inflation was printed at +2.76% yoy (vs consensus inflation +2.85%, +2.88% in January 2020). The higher inflation data above consensus was contributed by increasing prices of raw food, such as: garlic and chilli. The increasing garlic prices was affected by disruption in garlics import from China. While, the deceleration of core inflation was caused by lower of air fare. In the Board of Governors' Meeting on 19-20 Feb 2020, Bank Indonesia cut the BI 7-day Reverse Repo Rate by 25bps to be 4.75%, and also cut the Deposit Facility (DF) and Lending Facility (LF) rates by 25bps to be 4.00% and 5.50%, respectively. This cutting is preventive act from Bank Indonesia for the external pressure that was caused by the spreading Covid-19. Rupiah depreciated by -4.18% to 14,234.00/USD at end of February 2020 from 13,662/USD previous month. Indonesia's trade balance recorded deficit amounting to USD -864mn in January 2020 vs previous month deficit USD -62mn. The increment deficit was caused by contraction in gas export gas to China and coal export to South Korea. While, import number was also contracted by the declining of import volume for non-oil & gas sector (capital goods and raw materials) by -12.6% yoy. Non-oil and gas trade balance in January 2020 recorded deficit USD -361mn, while the previous month resulted surplus amounting to USD +942mn. Meanwhile, oil and gas trade balance still recorded deficit to USD -1,181mn in January 2020, higher than the deficit on December 2019 amounting to USD -971mn. Indonesia's official foreign reserve as of February 2020 was at USD 130.40billion, lower than January 2020's number at USD 131.70billion. The declining of foreign reserve was caused by paying external government debt.

The JCI ended the month lower at 5,452.7 (-8.2% MoM). Market laggards were UNVR, HMSP, ASII, TLKM, and BBRI as they fell -14.15%, -17.87%, -12.99%, -8.16% and -6.05% MoM respectively. The JCI continued its decline in February across the global stock markets as the COVID-19 virus outbreaks outside China worsen, which has surpassed the number of new cases in China. China published February PMI number at 35.7 which prompted investors to sell off across the globe, Indonesia not exempted and magnified through illiquidity. US treasuries yield also compressed at stands at the 1.9% mark which is the lowest level since GFC. Sector wise, the Basic Industry Sector was the worst performing sector during the month, declining 14.48% MoM. Ticker wise, LMSH (Lionmesh Prima) and NIKL (Pelat Timah Nusanantara) were the laggards, depreciating 58.47% and 44.75% MoM respectively. This was followed by the Agriculture Sector which dropped 13.2% MoM. Ticker wise, TBLA (Tunas Baru Lampung) and DSFI (Dharma Samudera Fishing Industries) posted 26.35% and 26.04% MoM losses respectively. On the other hand, the best amongst the worst sector during the month was the Mining Sector, which recorded a decline of 4.68% MoM. Ticker wise, ITMG (Indo Tambangraya Megah) and MDKA (Merdeka Copper Gold) were the laggards which fell 12.44% and 11.54% MoM respectively.
