The deflation on Feb 2022 was affected by the deflation on volatile food group which was impacted by the government policy for declining the maximum retail price for cooking oil, egg, and chicken prices. The BI Board of Governors agreed on 9-10 Feb 2022 to hold the BI 7-Day Reverse Repo Rate at 3.50%, and also hold the Deposit Facility (DF) and Lending Facility (LF) rates at 2.75% and 4.25%, respectively. This policy is in line with stable inflation, exchange rate and financial system amid higher external pressure. Rupiah appreciated against USD by +0.16% from 14,392 at end of Jan 2022 to 14,369 at end of Feb 2022. Indonesia's trade balance recorded surplus amounting to USD 933mn in Jan 2022 vs previous month surplus USD 1,019mn in Dec 2021. The lower trade balance was impacted by the lower of the coal export number on the back of export ban. Non-oil and gas trade balance in Jan 2022 recorded surplus USD +2,261mn, which was lower than the previous month that recorded trade surplus amounting to USD +3,304mn in Dec 2021. Meanwhile, oil and gas trade balance still recorded deficit to USD -1,328mn in Jan 2022, which was lower than the deficit in Dec 2021 amounting to USD -2,285mn. Indonesia's official foreign reserve in the end of Feb 2022 was at USD 141.4bn, slightly higher than Jan 2022 number at USD 141.3bn due to external debt withdrawal and tax revenue

IDR Government bond yields were mostly closed higher across all curves. The negative sentiments on market were mainly caused by external side, such as: higher US inflation which was followed by the higher US Treasury Yield (breach 1.93%), concern over Federal Funds Rate hike in 2022 and also war between Rusia and Ukraine in the end of Feb. However, onshore banks was still supported bond market as the bigger buyers.
