Manager Commentary

Central Bureau Statistics of Indonesia (BPS) announced July 2021 inflation at +0.08% mom (vs consensus inflation +0.01%, -0.16% on June 2021). On yearly basis, inflation was +1.52% yoy (vs consensus inflation +1.47%, +1.33% on June 2021). Core inflation was printed at +1.40% yoy (vs consensus inflation +1.43%, +1.49% on June 2021). The higher July inflation was contributed by the administered price group which was impacted by the higher tobacco price, and also volatile food group which was caused by the lower supply of several goods on the back of harvest time. The BI Board of Governors agreed on 21-22 July 2021 to hold the BI 7-Day Reverse Repo Rate to be 3.50%, and also hold the Deposit Facility (DF) and Lending Facility (LF) rates to be 2.75% and 4.25%, respectively. This policy is to maintain Rupiah stability in the middle of global uncertainty and also the lower inflation. Rupiah appreciated against USD by +0.55% from 14,542 at end of June 2021 to 14,462 at end of July 2021. Indonesia's trade balance recorded surplus amounting to USD +1,316mn in June 2021 vs previous month surplus USD +2,360mn. The lower of trade surplus was affected by the better growth of import number, especially non-oil and gas sector (capital goods imports), however the growth of gas export number also showed improvement on the back of higher global oil price. Non-oil and gas trade balance in June 2021 recorded surplus USD +2,382mn, which was lower than the previous month that recorded trade surplus amounting to USD +3,485mn. Meanwhile, oil and gas trade balance still recorded deficit to USD -1,066mn in June 2021, which was lower than the deficit on May 2021 amounting to USD -1,125mn. Indonesia's economy grew by +7.07% YoY in Q2 2021 (vs previous -0.74% on Q1 2021), and +3.31% QoQ (vs previous -0.96% on Q1 2021). The better YoY growth was mainly caused by the low base effect which last year GDP contracted by -5.32% YoY. In terms of business sector, the positive growth was happened on all of sectors, especially Manufacturing Sector (the highest) which grew +1.35% YoY. While, in terms of expense, the highest growth came from the household consumption by +3.17% YoY. Indonesia's official foreign reserve in the end of July 2021 was at USD 137.3billion, slightly higher than June 2021 number at USD 137.1billion due to the Government's Global Bond Issuance as well as tax and services receipts.
