Manager Commentary

Global Equities closed higher in July, major global indices such as S&P 500, Dow Jones Industrial Index, Nasdaq Composite Index and MSCI World Index closed 9.11%, 6.73%, 12.35%, 7.86% respectively. Many analysts believe that the current US inflation rate may have peaked in June 2022 (9.1% yoy vs 8.6% consensus) due to combination of soft commodity prices, improving supply chain and weakening demand. Despite 75 bps rate hike in recent FOMC meeting, market saw Fed's statement as less hawkish and future rate hike will be data dependent. Meanwhile, Jakarta Composite Index recorded a positive return of 0.57% in the month of July, driven by energy/coal sector and optimism on 2Q22 results as domestic economy continue to recover. On top of that, Bank Indonesia has kept the 7DRR rate unchanged in the month of July despite Fed's tightening and higher than expected domestic inflation. Indonesian 10-Year Govt Bond yield closed -0.052% in the month of July.
