On yearly basis, inflation was +1.33% yoy (vs consensus inflation +1.45%, +1.68% on May 2021). Core inflation was printed at +1.49% yoy (vs consensus inflation +1.45%, +1.37% on May 2021). The monthly deflation on June 2021 was affected by the lower inflation on core inflation, administered price group, and volatile food group. The lower inflation in volatile food group was caused by the declining of red onion, chicken, and chili prices, while the lower inflation in administered price group was caused by the lower public transportation cost after Lebaran period.
