Manager Commentary

For the month of June 2022, MSCI China remains one of the best performing countries as China loosens its Covid restrictions and shows signs of stimulating the economy. But unlike previous stimulation efforts, this time the stimulus has not been through the real estate sector or through infrastructure build out. Instead, it has been more through the consumer channel. This shows in the performance of the sectors in China with Health Care, Consumer discretionary and Consumer Staples being the best; and energy being the worst performing one. In contrast, South Korea was one of the worst performing countries for the month of June especially with South Korean banks dragging down the performance. The high leverage in South Korean households and rising interest rate environment might cause future performance issues for banks.

Central Bureau Statistics of Indonesia (BPS) announced June 2022 inflation +0.61% mom (vs consensus inflation +0.45%, +0.40% in May 2022). On yearly basis, inflation was +4.35% yoy (vs consensus inflation +3.55%, +4.19% in May 2022). Core inflation was printed at +2.63% yoy (vs consensus inflation +2.70%, +2.58% in May 2022). The higher inflation was mainly contributed by the volatile food group, especially the horticulture commodity. The BI Board of Governors agreed on 22-23 June 2022 to hold the BI 7-Day Reverse Repo Rate at 3.50%, and also hold the Deposit Facility (DF) and Lending Facility (LF) rates at 2.75% and 4.25%, respectively. This policy is in line for maintaining the inflation level and exchange rate, and also to support the economic growth amid higher external pressure which was impacted by the risk of stagflation in most of country in the world. Rupiah depreciated against USD by -2.49% from 14,592 at end of May 2022 to 14,956 at end of June 2022. Indonesia's trade balance recorded surplus amounting to USD 2,895mn in May 2022 vs previous month surplus USD 7,557mn in April 2022. The lower trade surplus was impacted by the export ban of palm oil which was shown by the declining of palm oil export to EU from 45% to 3% YoY in May 2022. Non-oil and gas trade balance in May 2022 recorded surplus USD +4,753mn, which was lower than the previous month that recorded trade surplus amounting to USD +9,938mn in April 2022. Meanwhile, oil and gas trade balance still recorded deficit to USD -1,858mn in May 2022, which was lower than the deficit in April 2022 amounting to USD -2,381mn.

The JCI Index ended the month lower at 6,911.58 (-3.32% MoM). Market laggards were BBRI, MDKA, BBCA, ASII, and BMRI as they fell -10.37%, -26.79%, -6.45%, -9.86% and -6.76% MoM respectively. Global stock markets sentiment fell in the month of June as persistent US inflation numbers, where May-22 inflation posted 8.6% YoY, which above market expectation of 8.3%. This was followed by more aggressive US tightening, where the FED raised Fed Fund Rate by 75bps which indicated further tightening ahead until inflation number close to the FED target at 2-4% range. All these events increased market concerns on potential economy recession, whereby market expects the Fed be more aggressive in its liquidity tightening plan, which could lead to US economy recession in 2023. Indonesia stock market also affected by current global tightening. We have seen big outflows this year even though foreign ownerships in bonds were low, which has depreciated rupiah currency to IDR 14,800/USD at the end of the month. On the valuation front, the JCI currently trades at 2022 earnings multiple of 16.2x, which is slightly below its mean but considering low foreign investors positioning combined with improving economic activity, we believe investors' appetite in Indonesian stocks will continue to improve in the longer run. However, we can't rule out that recession risk could pressure commodity price which in turn would Indonesia's fiscal balance vulnerable. Sector wise, the Transportation and Logistic Sector was the worst performing sector during the month, declining 15.13% MoM. Ticker wise, CMPP (Airasia Indonesia) and TNCA (Trimuda Nuansa Citra) were the laggards, depreciating 40.56% and 40.00% MoM respectively. This was followed by the Basic Materials Sector which dropped 12.89% MoM. Ticker wise, TIRT (Tirta Mahakam) and SULI (Sumalindo Lestari) posted 47.37% and 37.50% MoM losses respectively. On the other hand, the best sector during the month was the Technology Sector, which recorded a gain of 2.26% MoM. Ticker wise, TECH (Indosterling Technomedia) and GOTO (Goto Gojek Tokopedia) were the movers which rose 50.24% and 27.63% MoM respectively.
