Manager Commentary

Central Bureau Statistics of Indonesia (BPS) announced November 2023 inflation at +0.38% MoM (vs consensus inflation +0.23%, +0.17% in October 2023). On yearly basis, inflation was at +2.86% YoY (vs consensus inflation +1.9%, +1.91% in November 2023). The higher inflation MoM was contributed by the higher price of food, beverage, and tobacco group. The BI Board of Governors agreed in their meeting on 22-23 November 2023 held the BI 7-Day Reverse Repo Rate at 6.00%, also the Deposit Facility (DF) and Lending Facility (LF) rates at 5.25% and 6.75%, respectively. In total, Bank Indonesia had increased their benchmark rate by 250bps up to Nov 2023. The decision bolsters rupiah stabilization policy against heightening global uncertainty and as a pre-emptive and forward-looking measure to mitigate the impact of imported inflation, thus bringing inflation under control and within the 3.0%±11% target corridor in 2023 and 2.5%±11% in 2024. Rupiah strengthen against USD by 12.6% from 15.897 at end of October 2023 to 15,484 at end of November 2023. The strengthen Rupiah was impacted by the Fed Rate in November 2023 rup terde balance in October 2023 recorded surplus USD +3.405mn in September 2023. The higher trade surplus was impacted by lower oil and gas deficit in October 2023. Wearded surplus USD +5,311m, which was lower than the previous month surplus USD +3.405mn in September 2023. Meanwhile, oil and gas trade balance still recorded deficit to USD -1.835mn in October 2023. Meanwhile, oil and gas trade balance still recorded deficit to USD +3.450 min Current Account Surplus USD 4.63 billion in the same period of the previous year, accounting for -0.25 percent of the country's GDP. The deficit driven by goods balance surplus thinner at USD 10.27bn in Q3 of 2023 from USD 17.62bn in Q3 of 2022. Indonesia's official reserve assets position amassed USD 138.1 billion as of the end of November 2023. The singet account deficit of USD -0.86 billion in Q3 of 2023 from USD 17.62bn in Q3 of 2023. Indonesia's official reserve asset

The JCI ended the month higher at 7,080.74 (+4.87% MoM). Market movers were BREN, GOTO, BBRI, TLKM, and AMMN as they rose +50.21%, +61.67%, +6.35%, +7.74%, and +10.77% MoM respectively. Global equities rebounded quite strongly in November as lower than expected US inflation readings in October provided signs that the Fed may be done with hiking its benchmark rate for the rest of the year. Domestically in Indonesia, the JCI also saw a strong rebound driven by reversal in bond yields and stronger IDR appreciation as market begins pricing in end of rate hike by the Fed. Sector wise, the Technology Sector was the best performing sector during the month, gaining +20.51% MoM. Ticker wise, EDGE (Indointernet) and GOTO (Goto Gojek Tokopedia) were the movers, appreciating +71.77% and +61.67% MoM respectively. This was followed by the Infrastructure Sector which rallied +19.52% MoM. Ticker wise, BREN (Barito Renewables Energy) and KETR (Ketrosden Triasmitro) posted +50.11% and +21.70% MoM gains respectively. On the other hand, the worst sector during the month was the Healthcare Sector, which recorded a decline of -5.36% MoM. Ticker wise, CARE (Metro Healthcare Indonesia) and SRAJ (Sejahteraraya Anugrahjaya) were the laggards which fell -61.46% and -23.63% MoM respectively.

Portfolio positioning strategy wise, we are neutral and selective. 2023 is a year of normalization where strong commodity prices are normalizing with aggregate corporate earnings growth is expected to grow at high single digit compared to double digit growth in 2022. Structurally, we are also adjusting to a new era of higher cost of capital and hence equity. Despite a challenging and volatile short-term outlook, we still believe that the direction of digital and down streaming theme is structural and playing an important role for Indonesia over the mid-long term. Our preference on equities that have pricing power, efficient balance sheet and good corporate governance has not changed regardless of conditions. However, we have increased our cash portion over rising recession risk, complex geopolitical factors and lingering uncertainty over Abrupt type adjustment period(s).
